Electronic Acupuncture

MASSAGE REVIEW PUBLICATIONS • This easy-to-use therapeutic device is designed to deliver the same benefits as acupuncture, but without the use of needles. Created with the intention of being a painless, noninvasive therapy, it serves as an adjunct to massage therapy. It aims to provide pain relief to clients with hyper-muscle tonicity, carpal tunnel syndrome and TMJ. It comes with a variety of materials, including a chart of trigger points, instructions for use and list of contraindications.

The Electronic Acupuncture costs $79.95 • Contact Massage Review Publications, (954) 578-5055 or www.massagereview.com
